

Ashley Hiusser B.A.

Ashley has been working in the field of office administration for over fifteen years. She first started working in the administrative field with a local agri-business while attending university. Upon her graduation from the Honours English Literature program at the University of Waterloo, she branched out into client services as an education coordinator and administrative manager for a local college/ learning centre.

Between her education and her past administrative experience, Ashley brings a unique background and perspective to the IAIC client services department. She is a life-long learner and actively seeks any chance to gain new knowledge and find the 'teachable moments' in life.

In her spare time, Ashley enjoys painting, being outside and spending time with her husband and two small children.
