

Steve Rapson, CFP®

Senior Financial Planner

Steve joined IAIC in late 2010 as a Senior Financial Planner and only the third member of a new financial planning division. His continuing role is to help build out IAIC's financial planning process and develop the planning output IAIC provides to its clients. More recently, he has been working with the younger generation of planners in the division to continue the evolution of IAIC's financial planning offer.

Steve graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Toronto (University College) in 1987. Since graduating he also completed his CFP®, CSC, and most recently, numerous courses associated with his favourite hobby, sailing.

Steve has worked at several financial organizations, prior to joining IAIC, as a licensed senior financial consultant.
