

Jason Voll

Jason has worked in the accounting and information technology field for more than 10 years. After earning a diploma in Business Administration – Accounting from Georgian College, Jason began his career at a national accounting firm as a staff accountant. Recognizing his knowledge of systems and software, the firm asked Jason to move into their IT department shortly after he joined their organization. In 2003, Jason began working at Ward & Uptigrove Chartered Accountants as a staff accountant where his knowledge and expertise in computers resulted in him leading various IT related projects. Jason joined IAIC in 2012 to help the organization advance its use of information technology.

As the IT Manager, Jason leads the organization in the development, implementation and maintaining of IT related processes and systems designed to enhance IAIC's operations.
